Jesus Raised the Dead

John 11:1-45

Jesus had three friends named Mary, Martha, and Lazarus. One day, Lazarus got sick. Later, he died.

Jesus heard that Lazarus was sick. But he told his disciples, "Our friend is asleep. I will go and wake him." Jesus meant that Lazarus had died.

Jesus waited two more days. Then he and his disciples went to see his friends. Lazarus was dead.

Martha said to Jesus, “Lord, my brother would not have died if you were here.”

But Jesus said to her,
“Your brother will live
again.”

Jesus said, "I am the one who raises people from death and gives them life again. Anyone who believes in me will live. They will never die. Do you believe this, Martha?"

She said, "Yes, Lord. I believe you are the Christ, the Son of God. I believe God sent you into the world."

Then Mary went to Jesus. She also said, "Lord, my brother would not have died if you were here." She was crying. The people with her were crying.

Jesus was sad and he cried.

Jesus went to the grave of Lazarus. Jesus looked to heaven and prayed, "Thank you, Father. You always hear me. Now, my followers will believe that you sent me."

Jesus said in a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out!"

Then Lazarus came out of the tomb. All those people saw what Jesus did. Because of this, many of them believed in him.
